

AD

The 13 Most Jaw-Dropping Oceanview Hotel Pools

AD spans the globe—Bali, South Africa, Mexico, Palm Beach!—to uncover the wildest, most plunge-worthy seaside hotel pools

Text by Lindsay Lambert Day

Posted August 29, 2017

Massage or facial? Beach walk or bike ride? Snorkel or scuba? A vacation can bring with it plenty of head-scratching choices, but when it comes to the age-old debate of pool versus ocean, some luxury hotels and resorts give guests the best of both worlds. Following are 13 of our favorites.

Photo: Courtesy of The Silo

The Silo—Cape Town, South Africa

The Silo arrived to much fanfare when it opened, in March, thanks equally to its architectural heritage, its playfully designed interiors, and a certain high-profile neighbor—the Zeitz Museum of Contemporary Art Africa—that's set to arrive in September. But for an eyeful of art, guests needn't wait until the museum opens. Simply head upstairs to the Silo's rooftop pool for 360-degree views that include Table Mountain, downtown Cape Town, and the sapphire-blue expanse of the southern Atlantic.

Link to story: <https://www.architecturaldigest.com/gallery/oceanview-hotel-pools>